Park Board Takes First Step Toward New Municipal Center

PLAN SURVEY TO OUTLINE
PROJECT

City's Needs Pointed Out at Meeting of
New Commission
STUDY 2 LOCATIONS
Municipal Bowl, Santiago
Parkway Suggested as Expansion Sites

Santa Ana's new park and forestry board will make a survey in the near future to determine exactly what the city's park facilities are and to find possible locations for a new municipal park. The board indicated a belief last night that Santa Ana needs a real park, large enough to do justice to the community, and that now is the psychological time to start taking steps to secure it.

Two possibilities suggested themselves at last night's meeting of the board in the office of City Engineer J. L. McBride. One was a suggestion by A. H. Allen, president, that the Santiago parkway now under construction as a city and county project, might be used as the nucleus of a larger park to be created around it. The other possibility, pointed out by Edward Hall, was that the municipal bowl at Sixth and Olive streets might be used as the starting point for expansion.

Cites Other Parks
Ernest Layton, the city council representative on the board, called attention to the need for a park. He said that other cities smaller than Santa Ana have outstanding parks. Mr. Layton also said that he has contacted a large number of persons and that he found all of them convinced that Santa Ana needs a new park.

With the Works Progress administration ready to launch a construction program, and with the consequent need for local projects which will supply work to a large number of men, this is an opportune time for the city to launch a park project, Mr. Layton pointed out. A few years ago it would have been necessary for the community to bear the entire financial burden itself, but under present conditions the federal government stands ready to assist such programs.

The board last night did not take any action on the suggestion. (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Russia Flies '7-Car' Train!

MOSCOW, Aug. 14. (AP)—A "seven-car" airplane train and an airplane built entirely by women were announced today as Russian contributions to aviation.

The air train was announced as the longest ever flown. It stayed up 40 minutes at Koktebel, Crimea, and the seven gliders, one of which was piloted by a woman, were detached and landed separately.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 14. (AP)—Carpenters today saved a house in two so a loan firm might take possession of half of it under a mortgage foreclosure that entailed complication.

The house was built on parts of adjoining lots, one of which was mortgaged.

When the loan company tried to foreclose, Mrs. Fern Chadwick, the owner, moved her possessions into the part of the house built on the other lot.

ALTER LEGION
VOTE PLANDelegates Make Change
To 'Take Election Out Of Politics'

FRESNO, Aug. 12. (AP)—The seventeenth annual convention of the American Legion, department of California, was coasting to election of officers and adjournment today when a bombshell was dropped into the convention hall in the shape of a constitutional amendment to make all state legion officers elected by secret ballot.

The delegates rushed the amendment through with a rousing vote, the move being said by some leaders to represent an attempt by them to take the "affairs of the Legion out of the hands of politicians and give them back to the Legionnaires." They claimed the secret ballot system would give all a voice in the convention affairs.

The bonus issue was thrown into the convention by Edmund Silverbrand of Fontana, San Bernardino county, with motion that the resolutions committee be instructed to prepare a measure demanding full and immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates. His motion was passed by acclamation.

After a hard fight among three cities, Hollywood yesterday won the honor of entertaining the Legion convention next year. San Jose withdrew its invitation before the voting started but Hollywood, San Diego and Stockton were deadlocked on the first two votes.

On the third, however, Hollywood was far in front and the choice was made unanimous upon motion.

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 14. (AP)—Colonel Hugh Beaton, director of the federal Works Progress administration for five coast region counties, issued a warning here today that there is no place for "idlers and so-called agitators" on the government relief rolls.

He said his policy will be "no work—no relief," in directing administration of relief activities in Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Monterey and San Benito counties.

Dam Break Results in Death Toll of 250;

Factories, Houses and Villages Dipped Out by Wall of Water

TURIN, Aug. 14. (AP)—Several thousand remaining residents of the valley below the Ovada dam, which burst yesterday with an estimated loss of 250 lives, fled in terror to mountain refuges today as a rumor spread another dam above Ovada had collapsed.

The terror-stricken populace broke through ranks of police and soldiers and commandeered every vehicle and animal with which they could depart to the surrounding mountains.

The people already had been driven into near-hysteria by the horrors of the preceding day in which their homes and relatives were swept away by a powerful wall of water when the hydroelectric dam burst.

Induced to Return
Only after hours of toiling up steep slopes with official denials that the dam of the upper lake had broken, could the rescuers induce the villagers to return to the valley to aid in relief work.

The estimate of 250 dead followed an original report by rescue agencies that 1000 were killed and a later estimate of only 100 dead.

The provincial authorities said several hundred persons were suffering from injuries, shock and exposure as a result of the sudden torrent, which covered 40 square miles of countryside, with a heavy damage estimated at $24,600,000.

Mud Is Deep
The mud in many cases was several feet deep, rendering the exact count of the dead extremely difficult. Overturned houses were partly buried in the mud. Furniture floated on the viscous surface. Rescuers struggled knee and hip deep in mud striving to penetrate to the houses to search for victims, said to be mostly women and children.

Word reached here the village of Rossiglione was flooded and razed by the overflowing of three streams, tributaries of the Stura.

An official investigation into the collapse of the dam was ordered.

PASS NEW OIL
CONTROL BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The senate today passed without debate the Connally oil regulation bill.

The bill, offered by Senator Connally (D., Tex.), would give congressional consent to the Dallas interstate oil conservation compact already ratified by six states, authorize the president to regulate oil imports on recommendation of the tariff commission, and make permanent the Connally "hot oil" law barring interstate shipment of oil produced in excess of state laws.

State Votes 'No'
On Three Issues;
County Poll Light

Decisive Defeat For Propositions Seen
As Count Made

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Decisive defeat of all three propositions on which Californians voted in a special election yesterday appeared certain today in a tabulation of more than three-fourths of the state's 8266 precincts.

Proposition No. 1, proposing issue of $13,500,000 in bonds to finance construction of a new prison in the southern part of the state, as well as additions and improvements to hospital buildings, seemed destined for defeat after holding an early lead.

North in Favor
Los Angeles and other Southern California counties balled heavily against the measure, while most northern municipalities, particularly San Francisco, were strongly in favor. The heavier vote in the south accounted for apparent defeat of the proposal.

The two other propositions up for vote were rejected by overwhelming vote. They included proposed construction of a dam at Alector, in Napa county, to provide water for state institutions, No. 3, and a state refinancing plan, authorizing throwing in anticipation of taxes, No. 2.

The Vote
Of the state's 8266 precincts, 7061 in the Associated Press tabulation gave:
Proposition No. 1—Yes, 189,131; No, 216,480.
Proposition No. 2—Yes, 139,549; No, 265,120.
Proposition No. 3—Yes, 170,064; No, 231,247.

In Los Angeles county returns from 3542 precincts of the 3569 gave:
Proposition No. 1—Yes, 60,793; No, 115,065.
Proposition No. 2—Yes, 41,831; No, 131,882.
Proposition No. 3—Yes, 51,015; No, 122,980.

SEES SAVINGS
FOR TAXPAYER

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14. (AP)—A saving of 15 per cent in the bills of the county taxpayer is possible with the return of public utility properties from the state to the counties for purposes of taxation, Orfa Jean Shontz, Los Angeles member of the board of equalization, said today.

Slightly more than a billion dollars' worth of utility properties will be turned over to the counties.

$100,000 SENT TO FLOOD AREA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Expressing deep concern and regret over loss of life in flood-stricken areas along the Yangtze and Yellow rivers, the American Red Cross today set $100,000 to the Chinese government. Red Cross officials described the number of homeless in these areas as "appalling."

Fresh Pork Price Reaches
$29.50--350 Percent Jump

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Wholesale prices for fresh pork in the Chicago area today had reached a high of $29.50 a hundred pounds, or more than 350 per cent increase in two years. Yesterday's jump amounted to an even dollar as brought prices $23 higher than the extreme low of $6.50 a hundred pounds paid in 1933.

Fresh pork is the trade name for the choicest cuts of pork, usually referred to in retail markets as loin roasts.

One of the major causes of the record high pork prices was last year's drought with the consequent shortage of corn, principal food for hogs. The Institute of American Meat Packers points to the Agricultural Adjustment act program, as a contributing factor.

Live hogs also advanced to the record high price in nine years with both the extreme top, paid for choice animals, and the general average price five cents higher than on Monday. Yesterday's peak purchase was at $12.20 a hundredweight.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—President Roosevelt sent the nation into a momentous governmental venture today by signing the social security bill.

The president signed the bill in the presence of congressional leaders who sponsored it. Also with him was Secretary Perkins, who will have a part in the gigantic attempt to provide unemployment insurance and old age pensions.

Cites Importance
Attaching utmost importance to the bill, Mr. Roosevelt posed for photographers as he signed it.

He described the law as representing "a cornerstone in a structure which is being built but is by no means complete."

Mr. Roosevelt made the following talk at the signing ceremony: "Today a hope of many years standing is in large part fulfilled. The civilization of the past hundred years, with its startling industrial changes, has tended more and more to make life insecure. Young people have come to wonder what would be their lot when they came to old age. A man with a job has wondered how long the job would last.

'Some Protection'
"The social security measure gives at least some protection to 30,000,000 of our citizens who will reap direct benefits through unemployment compensation, through old age pensions and through increased services for the protection of children and the prevention of ill health.

"We can never insure 100 per cent of the population against 100 per cent of the hazards and vicissitudes of life. But we have tried to frame a law which will give some measure of protection to the average citizen and to his family against the loss of a job and against poverty-ridden old age."

State Receives Relief
Fund Today; Workers
Still Await Checks

Missing federal relief funds were received at San Francisco today, but at noon the State Emergency Relief administration here was still awaiting authorization to issue pay checks to 800 workers, which should have been passed out yesterday.

Terrence Holloran, administrator here, said he is making every possible effort to get $15,117.76 due the local workers as soon as possible. He has contracted John F. Covert, disbursing officer at San Diego, but Mr. Covert at noon had not received word to send out money.

It is expected that authorization will be received at San Diego later today and that after working most of tonight the office force there will be in a position to disburse funds. Mr. Holloran said that as soon as he is informed that the money is available he will dispatch a messenger to San Diego. An associated Press dispatch from San Francisco said that the $2,000,000 delayed fund was received there today and relief payrolls were ordered started again. The message said checks will be issued tomorrow to work relief clients.

The money was wired to the San Francisco federal reserve bank by the federal treasury at Washington and bank officials wired the order to the Bank of America at Los Angeles for indorsement of Governor Merriam. It was reported yesterday that the money had been delayed in transit.

In case the funds do not arrive, Mr. Holloran said, he will issue grocery orders in cases of emergency. These, however, will be deducted from the following pay checks.

SANTA ANA RIVER ON SPREE

Part Of County Gets Water

This was the day after the night before for the Santa Ana river. The "old man" went on a spree last night, shattered all known records and sent between 30 and 40 head of water coursing down in its channel in Orange county.

The unprecedented flow resulted from a freak hail and rainstorm 20 miles east of Colton yesterday afternoon. When the river was at the height of its celebration, it was running from bank to bank at Colton, where the channel varies from 20 to 60 yards in width.

No one remembers when the river went haywire to that extent before.

The Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company and the Anaheim Union Water company today were diverting the flow through their intake channels, the former at Sulphur Slide and the latter about WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Howard C. Hopson, Associated Gas and Electric system "master mind," and William A. Hill of Boston, his attorney, were cited for contempt today by the senate.

Their arrest was ordered. Earlier today, Hopson and Hill had been cited to the senate for contempt by its lobby investigating committee.

Hopson defied the committee by refusing to appear before it in response to a subpoena served this morning after a long search.

Charge Interference
The committee said Hill "physically interfered" with senate investigators in an effort to serve a subpoena on Hopson yesterday. Before the senate committee acted Hill told reporters Chairman "Conor of the house rules committee" had refused to release Hopson from a house subpoena to permit him to appear before the senate.

One witness before the committee said Hill "shouldered in between" Hopson and the senate process server yesterday.

The committee decided to ask the senate for contempt proceedings when the elusive Hopson failed to show up more than four hours (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

HOUSE TO VOTE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The house was called into session an hour earlier than usual today to frisk voting on the AAA amendments.

It approved a conference report yesterday embodying a compromise worked out by representatives of the house and senate. The conferees, however, had been unable to agree on four amendments the senate tacked on the bill after it originally passed the house, and so the latter chamber had to vote on these points today.

ITALY FLAUNTS PEACE PARLEY, CALLS MORE SOLDIERS TO ARMS

SPEED PLANS FOR WAR IN ETHIOPIA

New Legion Formed by Fascists Living in Other Nations

ROME, Aug. 14. (AP)—Italy called to arms today another extensive group of officers and soldiers as the government, indifferent to the tripartite conference in Paris, continued its preparations for war in East Africa.

The new order recalled to service those members of the classes of 1911, 1913 and 1914 who served under trimerist (three-month) obligatory military service.

Priests Excluded
The only ones excused from today's order are priests and other religious workers who make formal demand for exemption attested by their bishops, and those enrolled in the Blackshirt legion destined for service in East Africa.

The soldiers recalled must present themselves between September 23 and September 29.

It was learned that Italians living abroad who have volunteered for service in East Africa will be enrolled in the legion, which will be formed into four battalions of 1000 men each. They will be commanded by Pietro Farini, secretary-general of the organization of fascists abroad.

Not for Africa
The commune involves tens of thousands of men, but it was explained that they would not be sent to East Africa. They were called because the government felt their military training was too meager and therefore they should have another six months or year of preparation.

Automobile experts will be an exception. They will be placed in a special category and may be sent to East Africa for training.

ETHIOPIA PROTESTS ARMS PURCHASE BLOCK
GENEVA, Aug. 14. (AP)—Charging that Italy is preparing to massacre a peaceful people, Ethiopia today protested to the League of Nations that she is unable to purchase arms abroad to defend her soil.

On the eve of the all-important political negotiations in Paris, where three leading European powers are meeting to consider measures for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, Ethiopia besought the league's assistance to remove what she called the unjust effect of an arms embargo imposed on her by many nations.

WORKERS CLUB NOT IN A. F. L.

Norris Stone, financial secretary and business agent for local union 1815, and organizer for the American Federation of Labor, said today that union labor had no part in the meeting in Birch park last Friday at which a local workers' club protested the wage schedule of the Works Progress administration.

This workers' club, said Mr. Stone, is not affiliated with organized labor here nor with the American Federation of Labor. He pointed out that the local union had no grievances to air and in no way opposing the WPA wage schedule.

Any protests which organized labor might have would be taken up with the American Federation of Labor headquarters at Washington, D. C., said Mr. Stone, pointing out that organized labor here would not handle its grievances, if it had any, through meetings in the park.

save their families and children greeted the rescuers. One young mechanic plunged into the swirling current time after time, and was able to drag several helpless persons to high ground before he collapsed from exhaustion.

A father retrieved a floating wooden crib in which his infant was plunging down the flood.

The stormy weather which burst the dam resulted in great property damage in the vicinity of Genoa. Many streams overflowed their banks there and inundated surrounding villages.

The suburban sections along the mouths of streams which flow past Genoa to the sea were flooded. Huge waves lashed the waterfront, wrecking and damaging small shipping.

All crops in the path of the flood—grapes, grain, fruit and vegetables—were destroyed.

The catastrophe struck with tragic suddenness. There was a terrific roar and the shattered dam loosed the raging torrents on the valley.

Factories Collapse
Houses and factories collapsed like match boxes under the impact of the swiftly moving streams. Three railroad bridges and a half dozen highway bridges were strewn before the onrushing waters.

Rescue workers said many persons were drowned almost without warning in the town of Ovada.

Not a head of livestock was believed to have escaped in all the valley.

Ovada, about 19 miles south of Alessandria, is in the province of Piedmont, near the Gulf of Genoa. The power plant was built 10 years ago at the cost of 40,000,000 lira. The dam that controlled the water which supplied its power is believed to have been weakened by the vast store of water from recent storms.

recommend any definite location for a new park. Its members decided to study present park facilities with a view to determining what changes, if any, are advisable in the park layouts and equipment, and to find out what localities might offer possibilities of expansion. A site containing 25 or 30 acres would be necessary for such a new park, discussion indicated.

At present the city has Birch park, containing a bandstand; the municipal bowl, a small park on French street, Jack Fisher park, where limited picnic facilities are available, and has an interest in the Santiago parkway now under construction. Part of the latter park lies within the city limits and part under county jurisdiction. There is no park large enough to provide all the recreational facilities which a park in a modern city offers its citizens today.

EXPLAIN DELAY ON PROJECT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—President Roosevelt today reiterated his approval of the Central Valley, Cal., reclamation project and said he assumed the delay in getting funds was due to the heavy work in the comptroller general's office.

PUSH 2 ROAD PROJECTS

Imperial, Westminster Highway Extensions Ranked First

Extension of Imperial highway and Westminster highways will be preferred county projects under the $146,000 that has been allocated to Orange county from the $400,000,000 apportionment of federal funds to California for highway purposes.

The board of supervisors today authorized Nat Neff, county highway superintendent to designate these two projects as the most important ones submitted for state approval under the allocation. Other proposed projects included grading of Soquel canyon highway from Caribou canyon to the San Bernardino county line and improvement of Cypress boulevard from South Ocean to Cedar street.

According to terms of the allocation, approximately $36,500 will be turned over to the county to expend on feeder roads not inside incorporated areas. Another $36,500 will be made available to cities, and the state will spend approximately $73,000 on state highways in the county.

In designating extension of Imperial and Westminster highways, Mr. Neff said he had selected these two projects as they will provide the most man hours of labor. The federal appropriation was allocated on the basis of the number of men on relief rolls. In allocating $146,000 to this county, the apportionment was made on the basis of 4942 persons on relief.

According to Mr. Neff's estimate, grading of Imperial highway will cost approximately $25,000. Westminster boulevard will cost approximately $30,000, and work on Soquel Canyon road will cost approximately $38,500.

GRAVEL CONTRACT PROTEST MADE BY PROBABLE BIDDER

Misunderstandings in specifications regarding the county with gravel and quarry waste for use on county highways will be taken care of in the contract granted the successful bidder, according to information given by the board of supervisors to L. W. Blodgett, attorney for L. R. Reynolds, one of the probable bidders.

Mr. Blodgett had appeared before the board protesting the form of the specifications, declaring that they did not conform in some instances with the invitation to submit bids, and that it left the county open to purchase gravel from the successful bidder or from some other firm. He also protested the clause that would permit the county to use county-owned equipment for hauling gravel from the pit.

Mr. Blodgett pointed out that under the specifications, as they stand, the successful bidder would have to maintain a plant in the county-owned gravel pit and at the same time the county was not obligated to purchase gravel there.

Use of county equipment was protested on the ground that such a clause would prevent the producer, if the county so desired, from hauling the gravel at a fee based on tonnage.

The agreement to cover these asserted discriminations in a contract was reached after Nat Neff, county highway superintendent, told Mr. Blodgett that the specifications to which he was objecting were copies of specifications prepared by Mr. Blodgett. The supervisors indicated their willingness to stipulate in the contract that all gravel used on county roads, during the life of the contract, be purchased from the successful bidder.

FIESTA PERMIT HELD UP BY BOARD PENDING RULING

Application of Spanish-American lodges in El Modena and Placentia for permission to conduct week-end fiestas from August 16 through September 16 was withheld this morning by the board of supervisors pending a ruling from the health department.

The application was filed by Lucas Lucio, Orange county representative of the Mexican consul, who said the fiestas would be held every Saturday and Sunday until Independence day. The purpose of the affairs are to raise funds for the annual observance of the Mexican holiday.

Under plans outlined by Mr. Lucio, the lodges would sponsor booths where foodstuffs and other items could be purchased. In the street, between the booths, a platform would be erected for dancing. The supervisors indicated that if the health office approved methods of handling and selling foods, as proposed by the groups, the application would be approved.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Indications of a new supply of natural gas closer to San Francisco than any heretofore discovered were seen today in the report of the Amerasia corporation that it had brought in a 35,000,000 cubic feet well near Tracy, some 70 miles east of here.

MORE ABOUT HOPSON

after being served with a subpoena commanding his immediate appearance.

Faces Jail Term
If the senate should cite Hopson he would be subject to instant arrest wherever he might be found in the United States, and to a possible subsequent jail sentence.

Both Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, and William P. MacCracken, former assistant secretary of commerce, have served jail terms for contempt.

While the committee was waiting for Hopson, a resolution to strengthen its power in questioning Hopson and others was adopted by the senate.

Presented by Chairman Black of the lobby committee, the resolution amended the original investigation proposal to authorize inquiring into corporate and financial structures, salaries and stock transactions between companies.

Black said Hopson and persons replying to a committee questionnaire had questioned the right of congress to go into private transactions publicly.

He told Senator Hastings (R., Del.), the committee would show that "Hopson was directly controlling and mapping the entire program of lobbying all over the country."

Service of a subpoena was made on Hopson by Joseph McCarthy, agent for the senate group, who yesterday was prevented from serving the subpoena after the house rules committee adjourned.

Representative Cox (D., Ga.) had threatened to "kick" Hopson out of the house lobby committee room unless he withdrew a remark to the effect that a question Cox asked was a "lie."

The house committee flareup came after Hopson agreed that he expected expenditures by the Associated Gas and Electric system against the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill "might exceed" $800,000 to $900,000.

Cox inquired whether Hopson expected to get that back through future stock sales.

Raising his voice, Hopson heatedly replied:

"I resent that, that's a lie."

"Wait a minute," snapped Cox. "Unless you withdraw that statement, I'll come around there and kick you out of this room."

"You'll leave here a lot more scared up than you are now."

The flurry between Cox and Hopson ended when Chairman O'Connor rapped for order and Hopson, almost inaudibly, said:

"All right, I'll withdraw that."

Hopson then told house investigators he had not attempted to avoid their jurisdiction but had sought to evade the senate lobby committee.

3266 CARS ORANGES SHIPPED BY COUNTY FRUIT EXCHANGE

The Orange County Fruit exchange at Orange announced today that 3266 cars of Valencia oranges have been shipped through that organization up to August 1, leaving an estimated 4667 cars of tree crop to be moved.

The Valencia market has continued to hold steady on medium to large sizes with a slightly lower tendency on small fruit, the exchange report said.

Lemon shipments up to August 1 totaled 517 carloads. During the past 30 days the market has been very unsatisfactory, partly brought about by warm weather in consuming areas.

Valencia shipments in July amounted to 1232 carloads, 62 of which were sold through the Los Angeles distributing plant and 1170 of which were sold through export and domestic channels.

July lemon shipments totaled 136 cars. The exchange report said that the satisfactory market condition for lemons undoubtedly demonstrates the value of distributing the crop throughout the entire shipping season.

Storage lemons in exchange houses of the state on August 1 amounted to 43 per cent more than at this time last year.

"With the large volume of fruit to be moved to market, every grower should appreciate the benefits to be derived by all shippers complying with the rules and regulations of the prorate act under the California-Arizona marketing agreement," the report said.

SEWAGE PLANT AID URGED FOR TESTS ENDING CHILDREN HERE

The demonstration plant for sewage reclamation on Myrtle street west of Santa Ana will have passed all tests by the first week of September, after which it will be open for public inspection, according to Harry N. Jenks, engineer in charge.

The public demonstration of the plant will continue for several months, he said, and the people of Orange county will be invited to acquaint themselves with the possibilities of sewage reclamation through such a project.

Mr. Jenks will make a report to the board of supervisors early in September, covering the experimental period in which the plant has been tested in various ways.

The plant, which is operated under the direction of C. Gordon Beisel, was built by the county and various organizations interested in water conservation, in cooperation with the State Emergency Relief administration.

Hopson ended when Chairman O'Connor rapped for order and Hopson, almost inaudibly, said:

"All right, I'll withdraw that."

PAY INCREASE SOUGHT BY WORKERS

Agricultural workers are expected to demand a raise at a meeting of the wage arbitration board and a workers' committee in the city court here at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The present wage scale, established last March, calls for 22½ cents per hour. The workers' committee is scheduled to ask for 35 cents an hour, with 45 cents for all time in excess of nine hours per day.

On September 1 the present schedule is due to expire. Tonight's meeting will start negotiations for a new schedule of wages.

Another meeting next Wednesday is expected to be necessary before the final wage rate is established.

The wage arbitration board is composed of Dr. Graham Hunter, Fullerton; Stewart Stratham, Placentia, and Thomas Barker, labor commissioner, of Los Angeles.

Meeting with the board will be what is termed as a grievance committee with labor and farmer representation. Ralph Chaffee, Garden Grove, is chairman of the committee, which also includes M. Sasaki and S. Muraoka, Huntington Beach ranchers, and N. Avila, Los Angeles, and Lucas Lucio, Santa Ana, representing the workers.

The present wage scale was established after a strike of berry pickers took place last spring.

And in the V-type 8-cylinder engine, as Ford makes it, you get this sparkling performance at literally 4-cylinder cost. The Ford V-8 you buy today costs less to own than any car Ford ever built!

Its initial cost is at rock-bottom, and includes many "extras," such as safety glass all around, big 6.00 x 16-inch air balloon tires, built-in luggage compartment.

Operating costs [have also been pared this year—not only by the Ford V-8 engine's sparing use of gas and oil, but by other new improvements which have cut down brake, clutch, and tire wear. Adjustments are few on a Ford V-8, and what there are cost little.

Joe Morales, 33, arrested at his home in Atwood Monday night by Highway Patrolman Oscar Kelly, was held to answer today on charges of manslaughter in connection with the death of R. C.
Gordon in a traffic accident, when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Halsey I. Spence of Fullerton. His bail was fixed at $5000.

The manslaughter charges were filed against Morales after it was learned he was the driver of the truck which crashed into another truck operated by Mr. Gordon of Anaheim, resulting in the latter's death a short time later. The accident occurred Monday morning at the intersection of Blue Gum and Anaheim roads.

Upon the arrival of officers at the scene of the accident, they were told that Mrs. Rita M. Perez, Atwood, had been the driver of the truck. Morales represented himself as a witness to the accident.
It was later learned that Mrs.
Perez could not drive.

Justice Spence set August 22 as

ing. An inquest into Gordon's

FINED $500 FOR DEER MEAT

Roy Johnson of Irvine Park today pleaded guilty to charges of possessing deer meat out of season. Justice of the Peace K. E.
Morrison fined Johnson $500, and gave him the alternative of spending six months in the county jail.

On Saturday Johnson was arrested on a charge of drunk driving by Motor Patrolman George
Boyd, and City Judge J. G.
Mitchell fined Johnson $150 on that count.

The deer meat was found in the rumble seat of Johnson's car late had been stored, noticed a peculiar odor and traced it to the automobile. Officers were called, and at first believed a human body was

OHIO STREETS TURN TO RIVER

Flood waters, the worst since 1913, swept over East Central Ohio, causing at least three deaths and forcing hundreds of families from their homes, after five inches of rain fell in 12 hours. Above is the flooded public square in Massillon, where almost 60 per cent of the municipal area was under water, with traffic paralyzed.

OLD - TIME FIREMEN SPEEDY!
Horse Cart Races Recalled!

Another feature of life in the gay '90's was recalled today by George Spangler, blacksmith, who recounted the once famous horse cart races on Fourth street. In those days one of the favorite sports was to stage races between husky firemen pulling the hose carts, a blacksmith at that time, in the only member of the Southland as one of the speediest outfits in the business.

The old races were recalled to Mr. Spangler by photographs now on display in the window of the Security First National bank of Los Angeles.

The old volunteer fire company was noted for another reason. A large number of its members were blacksmiths or horse shoers.

Mr. Spangler, who was a member of the old company, said that time, in the only member of the old company still following that trade.

Members of the volunteer com-
bank window were Mr. Fields, then an expressman and now with the

Many Cities to Compete For Boat as Award in Harbor Regatta

NEWPORT HARBOR.—Winner of the "sweepstakes" prize at the annual Tournament of Lights in Newport Harbor August 24 will receive one of the famous new Johnson "Dinghys." J. A. Beck, general chairman of the tournament association, said today. Pasadena was awarded the honors last year and received one of the Johnson boats. Keen competition in this division is expected this year from Pasadena, Long Beach, Whittier, Santa Barbara, Santa Ana, Los Angeles, and Santa Monica.

Illumination, color effects, and beauty are the three deciding factors in judging the floats. Color arrangement and harmony will count nearly 5 per cent, according to officials. Since the colors of Spain have been chosen as the theme tones, ex-King Alfonso has been asked to definitely fix the true shades of the republic. Approval of red, yellow, blue, and gold is expected by the committee in charge.

Financial Condition Good. Finances are in good shape. A. J. Twist, chairman of the tournament association, said. A personal check of $100 from Mr. Beck tops the list of donations to date. Financial co-operation from civic organizations throughout Southern California has been very responsive, Mr. Twist reports.

Complete organization of the tournament of lights association will not become effective for another month, it became known today. However, it will not interfere with activities this year. Papers have been filed and final documents will be received by the middle of September. This will authorize organization of a permanent staff of paid workers to handle the tournament each season.

Coast Li-n-e-s

Creating considerable interest along Laguna's shores these warm days is the fast, exciting game of volleyball. Six teams are playing each side of the net, and the big leather ball plunks back and forth in the most circuitous route imaginable. If one misses, another stout lad is under it. So it goes, back and forth. But rules allow only three to touch the ball in that devious process of working it over into enemy territory. Competition? Plenty!

Volley ball and Pat Ford are practically synonymous. At least, it all adds up to Pat Ford, who has organized volleyball teams from San Pedro to all points south. This year he is concentrating on Laguna, and the net result is that every one of the popular swimming beaches now has a competing team—Emerald Bay, Divers' Cove, Main beach, Victoria Beach, and Woods Cove. Are there any more?

Even Fredric March and Ned Griffith, up at Three Archs, have caught the spirit and get marvelous workouts on their own court. But as yet their neighborhood team hasn't tangled with the top-ranking Divers' Cove outfit.

Pat Ford is a born organizer and has done a first-rate job of arousing public interest in this sport. He encourages everyone to play, and guarantees they'll feel more alive in the evening than if they had spent the afternoon sprawling under an umbrella. (However, look forward to a piece on the efficacy of sprawling some day.)

Every show has an "angel." Recently the Divers' Cove team blossomed out in gray-colored shorts and green visor caps. They have a new ball, in fact everything new. The angel in this show is W. W. Kerrigan of United Customers, Hollywood. Mr. Kerrigan spends all of his spare time on the beach at Divers' Cove. He is an avid volleyballer, and keeps in the best of physical trim. He has been heard to mention that the cove needs a raft. So cheer up, swimmers—all, something may be done about that next summer!

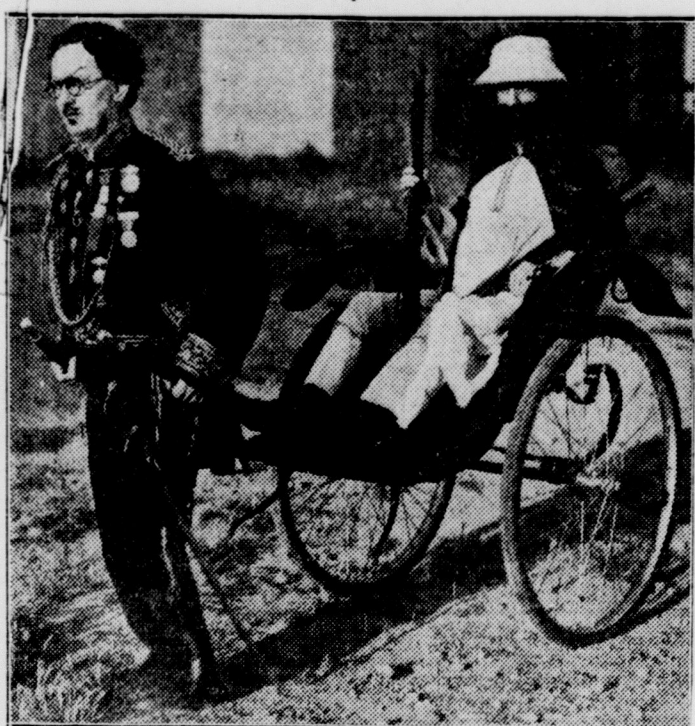

Mission at San Juan Capistrano is drawing record crowds this summer. Tourists from everywhere stop to see this historic spot. They find, no doubt, a kind of ageless atmosphere that is satisfying, like a visit to the ancient cathedrals of France and Italy.

There is about the town a rich, mellow mixture of genteel people long-learned in traditions; and there is also the modern influence which, blended, gives a general effect of tangy originality that is unlike any other community.

Hard to find anyone about in the middle of the day. Must be siesta-time!

'MIKADO' BURLESQUE CAUSES ROW

As an added touch to the fox (coyote) hunt staged by a Seattle, Wash., club, J. A. Hibbard donned regalia described as that of a Japanese "Mikado" and pulled C. G. Dean, a "Haile Selassie," about during the hunt. The incident brought rumors of a protest from Charge d'Affaires S. Yoshizawa of the American Embassy in Washington. But Mayor Charles L. Smith of Seattle sent a note of apology and regret saying "the proceeding was not planned to reproach or bring ridicule upon the Mikado or your country. No decision on the protest has been made. BAY TRAFFIC COP BUSY! Traffic Laws Are Enforced NEWPORT BAY.—Water lanes about Newport Bay have traffic laws as do highways, maintains Harbor Master Tommie E. Bouchey. And what's more, he is enforcing them. Several skippers were arrested this week for exceeding the speed limit of six miles an hour on the bay.

Since delivery of his new 17-foot Dodge speedboat, Mr. Bouchey has been patrolling the bay night and day to reduce accidents to a minimum. The craft is capable of 40 knots, and Mr. Bouchey states that he is making life miserable for "water hogs" and "speed burners."

REBEKAHS HAVE ORANGE MEETING

ORANGE.—Veteran Rebekahs met yesterday noon in the home of Mrs. Charles Barker, North Harwood street. A short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Ida Campbell. Two officers were elected, first vice president, Mrs. Millie Bomboy, and second vice president, Mrs. Charles Barker. Both were installed by the junior past president, Mrs. Abby Gould.

A contest in word-building was enjoyed, with Mrs. Claudia Windolph and Mrs. Lucy Richards winning prizes. A tribute was paid to the former first vice president, Mrs. Aretha Hart, who died a few weeks ago.

The hostesses, Mrs. Mary Wood, Mrs. Libbie Meats, Miss Della Prince and Mrs. Barker, served a dessert course to 22 members present.

Other day. He was scrutinizing the foundation for his new house on the corner of Holly and Magnolia drive, on the north side of Laguna. Said it was going to be a Monterey type of architecture. Later on he confided that he had had lunch that day with "Skinny" Skirvin, in Santa Ana. (Picture on page 12).

Fifty-seven new pictures in all to be seen at the art gallery these days, and nearly that many artists represented. The new show has been hung about a week. Too many for comment, out there are pictures that will make you tear your hair, pictures that will thrill you, pictures that will make you cheer, and pictures that will make you. Altogether, it only costs a quarter of a cent apiece to see them. Almost. In the lower gallery Glen Sterling has a one-man show of 23 block prints.

The main beach looked like Coney Island last Sunday, umbrellas galore. Soft drink and ice cream dispensers did a land office business. Their motto: "Get it while the sun shines." Summer is hot, but what a grand time of year. Especially for kids. Life fills up and bubbles over for them. Things happen to remember all during the next school year.

"In The Good Old Summer Time" Week-end sprawling time for everybody. Brief bathing suits—currently the briefest ever. Tender hides being slowly scorched rosy red. Ouch! Never again! That is, not until next summer.

These Fillet Crochet Butterflies Are Very Decorative

PATTERN 5349

You'll have all the fun of helping these butterflies emerge from their chrysalis, for they're made entirely of fillet crochet in string or a finer cotton. The lace stitch sets off the solid part of the design; the K stitch adds further decoration. Be ready to dress up your house for fall—make this chair set now. The larger butterfly done in string makes a handsome scarf end. If you want to use a finer cotton, you can make lovely decorations for the corners of tea cloths or other household linens.

In pattern 5349 you will find complete instructions and charts for making the butterflies shown; an illustration of them and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Santa Ana Journal Household Arts Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif.

Today's big worry: Whatever became of that 35-year-old case of Christmas cheer that was unearthed in Newport a few months ago? If you'll remember, workmen are supposed to have found some ancient brew under the Newport city hall. City officials reported that they lost trace of the find.

Perhaps they're waiting for it to age a bit.

An old friend in La Habra's city hall, John B. Sanks, says that for seven years he's been city engineer there. Not to be outdone, A. C. Brick Dust

By BRICK GAINES

One of the simplest and most attractive methods of community beautification to be seen in the county has been adopted in Orange.

With money received from back taxes, city officials caused flowers to be planted in parkways at all entrances to the city.

To my unpracticed eye, the flowers look like zinnias, but don't take my word for it—they might turn out to be chrysanthemums, or lilies, or even petunias. Nope, they're not roses. I know a rose when I see one.

Anyway, if my guess as to the brand of the flowers is correct, they make a perfect setting for travelers entering and leaving the city—and, incidentally, for a most atrocious and unwarranted pun.

"I'll be zinnia."

Learned much of a brand new business in Anaheim. Many are now employed "ferrying" autos across country for California dealers. It's turned into a real business, with much money to be made, although the future looks rather dark at present, due to taxes imposed by states through which caravans must pass.

One Anaheim resident, formerly a car salesman, has turned his efforts entirely toward the caravan business. Yesterday he had just returned with a shipment of 140 machines to be scattered over the state.

He goes to Detroit, or wherever the cars are manufactured, by train, taking four trusted "key men" and a mechanic along. When he arrives he advertises in the "help wanted" columns, and obtains thousands of replies. Drivers are paid to make the trip, and meals are furnished.

Cars are divided into several groups and a "key man" drives with each. They keep the pilots from becoming too anxious to arrive in California, as prospective buyers are much more fond of cars which have made the trip right-side-up. The mechanic watches out for wear and tear on the road.

GILOPPI DAY AT FAIR MONDAY

Feeling Well Today?

By DR. LAGO GALTSTON
Rheumatic Heart Disease: II

In the previous article we stated that the cause of rheumatic fever is unknown; also that there is no specific cure for the disease. These statements may give the incorrect impression that we are entirely in the dark about rheumatic fever.

So far as the cause of the disease is concerned, we have long suspected the streptococcus germ. This suspicion was developed because of the frequently with which tonsillitis or pharyngitis, due to the streptococcus germ, was a forerunner of rheumatic fever. Also, by certain skin tests it has been shown that about 75 per cent of rheumatic children are "sensitive" to the streptococcus germ, whereas only 32 per cent among non-rheumatic children show this sensitivity.

Cause Suggested

Recently a report on certain rheumatic fever research work has come from England, suggesting that rheumatic fever is caused by a virus; that is, by a disease-causing agent much smaller than the smallest germ, and that the streptococcus germ only plays the role of weakening the human body so that the virus can effect its damage.

Time and further study will be required to substantiate or disprove this hypothesis. Of course, discovering the cause of rheumatic fever will not necessarily afford a means for its prevention or its cure.

Symptoms Told

The symptoms of rheumatic fever are not clean-cut except in its more obvious stages. The onset of rheumatic infection is often signalled by the symptom of fatigability. The affected child tires easily; he may lose weight or fail to gain, and he usually has a poor appetite. The mother may notice that the child gets out of breath a little more easily than before, or that his heart beats too fast. But these are symptoms of which the child seldom complains. If the temperature is taken regularly for a week, it may be found to be slightly elevated from time to time.

Such symptoms, while they suggest the possibility of rheumatic infection, may be associated with numerous other conditions.

Talks to Parents

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH—
SWIMMING ENFORCED

There are many children who will not make the effort to swim unless they are driven to it. Persuasion, bribery, teasing, are useless. They are content to play at the edge of the water and scream with terror if anyone ducks or splashes them.

It used to be possible to go through life without learning to swim, and there are many adults who, having never learned themselves, do not realize the necessity of swimming for their children. Summer camps, schools, even colleges feature swimming and insist on the children's learning to take care of themselves in the water. It is one of the accomplishments most easily acquired early.

Needless Deaths

Scarcely a summer goes by without needless deaths by drowning. The child who cannot swim risks not only his own life but the lives of those about him. He wants to row and sail and paddle, and when an accident occurs some one must risk his life to save him, and more often than not with fatal results.

One way to force a child to learn to swim when he is old enough to start, is to forbid him to go near or on the water. This penalty works best if the family is living near the water and spending most of its time on the beach.

May Not Be Trying

Under no conditions should the non-swimmer be permitted even to wade or paddle along the shore unless he makes a definite effort to swim. If in three weeks' time he has not learned enough to go into deep water and keep his head up, unaided, he is not really trying, and should be even more severely penalized.

He should never be permitted to go in a boat until he is able to take care of himself. Let him miss a few excursions and impress upon him what a good time the others are having. It will not be long before he too is able to go.

GROWERS ADVISED TO PLANT COVER CROP FOR MANURES

Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg today informed citrus growers that now is the time to plant cover crop seed for early maturing green manures. He said that particularly in areas susceptible to minimum temperatures an early crop may be disked under to avoid possible hazard of frost injury. In other areas an early planting will make possible two crops in a year, he said.

Mustard is now the most popular crop for early maturity and heavy tonnage of organic matter, while the normal planting malva makes a splendid cover, said the farm advisor. Where leguminous crops can be grown they are preferred, but in recent years have not responded so well, the farm advisor pointed out.

Hoover As Well As Roosevelt Is Stamp Collector

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—President Roosevelt and former President Hoover were disclosed today to be fellow stamp collectors, despite political differences.

At the session of the golden jubilee convention of the American Philatelic Society, the collectors listened to a message from Roosevelt that extended a "welcome to fellow members" and lauded selection of "the nation's capital for this auspicious meeting."

Then the convention was told Hoover had applied for membership in the national society and the Washington group, host for the meeting. Officials said the former president will be granted both memberships.

CAPISTRANO NIGHT SCHOOL FUNDS DECISION NEAR

Whether the high school at San Juan Capistrano will receive its state apportionment for night classes conducted last year is being decided by the state department of education. An early decision is expected, according to information received today from the office of County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson.

Several days ago members of the Capistrano school board were notified in a letter from the office of the county superintendent of schools that the state apportionment would not be made.

Arthur Corey, assistant superintendent of county schools, said today that since writing the letter he had further telephonic communication with the state department in which he was advised that the matter had been taken under advisement and that a decision would be made later.

HUGE SUGAR MACHINE BEING INSTALLED BY LOCAL PLANT

To install the first of his machines in America, F. Lafeville of Paris is in Santa Ana this month conducting initial operation of his crystallizer-pan at the Holly Sugar company. He is a guest of the Santa Ana hotel.

The visitor is inventor of the machine which was introduced about seven years ago. It combines the crystallizer and the pan for sugar processing, previously operated separately, and Mr. Lafeville says it does as much work in several hours as other machines do in three days. The machine weighs 125 tons when loaded. Sugar manufacturers throughout the nation are expected to inspect the machine during the coming month.

Mr. Lafeville arrived in America in July, making the trip on the Normandie's third voyage across. It is his fourth visit to the United States. World traveler, he was manager of sugar factories in France and Egypt previous to the invention of his machine. Thirteen of the Lafeville crystallizers are in operation in the Philippines and other countries have adopted them, Mr. Lafeville declared.

The inventor was captain of artillery in the war and was decorated with a croix de guerre. One of his sons is a captain in the French navy at present.

Although Mr. Lafeville never spoke English until about seven years ago, he now is a fluent conversationalist. He says he learned by reading the language. His work has been approved by the Polytechnic school in France, the highest recognition awarded to engineers, he said.

SUSPECT SAVED FROM DEATH

FREEZING TEST IN DOUBT NOW

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 14. (AP)—The voice of a comrade, intervening almost at the last moment, saved John Favorito, young Edgewater mechanic, from paying the death penalty last night for a holdup slaying.

The 25-year-old Favorito was to have died in the electric chair at 8 p. m. for the slaying of Emil Vyborny, gasoline station operator. At 4 p. m. Charles Weiss, 23, of Closter, serving 12 to 15 years' imprisonment for participation in the crime, said in a note to the state prison warden that he wanted to "assume the blame for the killing in the Vyborny murder case."

Governor Hoffman granted Favorito a week's reprieve.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 14. (AP)—

Dr. Ralph Willard, young biochemist, today considered two courses in his "ice cure" experiment.

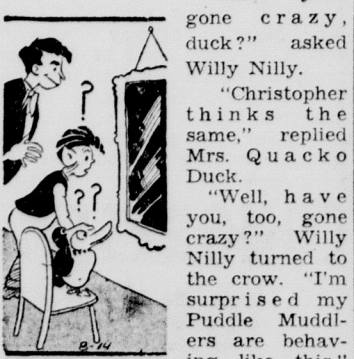

One was to shelve entirely a proposal to try a freezing experiment on Stephen Simkhovitch, Hollywood writer, who signed an agreement with Willard to undergo the experiment because he wanted "to do something for humanity."

The other plan was to move his laboratory to New York.

Answering threats of prosecution if the Simkhovitch refrigeration idea was attempted, Dr. Willard said he wouldn't care to go through with it "unless I knew I would not be held legally responsible, because, of course, there is a chance the experiment would not succeed."

SUNDOWN STORIES

By Mary Graham Bonner
"Your ears look as they always have to us, said Mrs. Quacko Duck.

"Have you gone crazy, duck?" asked Willy Nilly.

"Christopher thinks the same," replied Mrs. Quacko Duck.

"Well, have you, too, gone crazy?" Willy Nilly turned to the crowd. "I'm surprised my Puddle Muddlers are behaving like this," he added, turning to the magician. "There must be some reason."

"I'm sorry," quacked Mrs. Quacko, "but your ears have not changed at all. Maybe you imagined a change when you looked in the mirror, or maybe it is a mirror which does tricks."

Ears Different

"It wouldn't do tricks so that it made the rest of me look as always while just my ears were different," Willy Nilly said.

"Well, look at yourself in the mirror once again," urged Christopher Columbus Crow.

Willy Nilly turned and looked in the mirror. The magician was still moving his fingers, but Christopher and Mrs. Quacko were surprised to hear Willy Nilly exclaim: "My ears are different. They are like new little correct ears. What can be the matter with you two?"

He turned to them again, but they shook their heads.

Let's All Look

"Let's all stand before the mirror," the magician said. "Here's a chair so the duck and crow can see."

"This was certainly very puzzling. 'Your ears have changed!' the duck and crow suddenly cried. But in a moment or so all of them — Willy Nilly, Mrs. Quacko and Christopher said: 'No! They haven't!'"

WALNUT MARKETING AGREEMENT FACES COURT TEST IN COUNTY

ASSOCIATION OF GROWERS MAPS FIGHT

Congress Has Illegally Given Board Power, Group Believes

The power of the walnut control board and the marketing agreement operated under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration will be tested in court. Officers of the recently organized Independent Walnut Growers Protective Association said today their organization has authorized employment of attorneys to start court action against the control board. It is the intention of this group to test the constitutionality of the board's actions and of the marketing agreement.

E. W. Crowther, Placentia, president of the association; E. P. Haskell, Escondido, vice president, and Frank E. Bissitt, Fullerton, secretary, said yesterday that growers in the organization are dissatisfied with present marketing practices, particularly the board's declaration that a surplus exists, and its method of handling these walnuts.

Authority Attacked

While no specific point of attack has been selected, the officers said yesterday that they believe congress has delegated authority illegally to the secretary of agriculture, and he has illegally passed it on to the walnut control board. It was the alleged delegation of authority by congress to the secretary of agriculture that was complained of in recent court action attacking processing taxes. In these cases federal circuit courts held the AAA was unconstitutional insofar as authority was delegated.

Amendments to the AAA have been passed by both houses of congress and are now in conference. Some of these changes are designed to eliminate alleged unconstitutional features of the act. It is probable that the contemplated court action by the walnut men will be deferred until changes in the AAA have been finally approved.

Contend No Surplus

It is the contention of the Independent Walnut Growers Protective Association that no actual surplus exists. They believe that the surplus has been arbitrarily decreed by the control board and that if different marketing methods were used, more complete distribution could be achieved and the entire crop could be marketed. Independent packers not operating under the control board market all their walnuts, the association officers said yesterday.

They further contended that the walnut control program was instituted without consulting the growers. They said that officers of the California Walnut Growers association has authority to commit grower members to the program without referring the matter to them.

Tennis Always Has 'Open Season' on Many Courts of Anaheim's City Park

(This is the eighth of a series of articles having to do with the establishment and development of the Anaheim city park, one of the outstanding cultural and recreational institutions of Southern California. The series is intended to be informative to those cities which do not enjoy park facilities. Santa Ana is listed in the latter classification.)

By ROCH BRADSHAW

There isn't any "closed season" for tennis at the Anaheim city park. The battery of courts there are busy practically all day long throughout the summer, and in other seasons there are always enough racquets swinging and balls flying to make the courts look like a mighty good investment.

Two new concrete courts were added this year, and there is still space on the west end of the line to install more.

Growing interest in tennis prompted the launching of a new tournament in Anaheim this spring. The park was the logical place for it. As a result 220 Anaheim boys and girls are not only better players but are looking ahead to more fun and more improvement in their games by the time next spring's tournament comes around.

Contest Annual Affair

The contest is to become an annual affair, according to Coach Richard Glover of the high school, who is in charge of the city's recreational program.

The tournament this year launched the summer playground season just before the school term closed. The play lasted for more than a week. There were eight divisions, including the consolation, which added to the interest in the competition.

There was a division for boys and one for girls of 12 years and under, and divisions for both boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 15. There was a separate division for boys between the ages of 16 and 18.

Losers Have 'Final'

There was almost as much interest in being a semi-final loser as in being a winner, for the two losers played a "final" of their own, competing for one of the consolation trophies. The Anaheim Bulletin furnished the trophies, while all the balls for the tournament were provided by Peter Wisser.

The interest that was aroused by the tournament was so great that it will be repeated each year.

This competition is only one phase of the activities on the tennis courts at the park. The Valencia Tennis club plays its matches there, while throughout the year individual games are always in progress.

Strong For Tennis

Rudolph Boyesen, park superintendent, is particularly strong for tennis because, as he says, it requires little supervision and gets along very nicely by itself.

The problem of supervision for a recreational program is considerably simplified because Anaheim is able to concentrate many of its playground activities in the park. Of course there are playgrounds on a number of school campuses, but without the park the program would be scattered still more.

Proposed establishment of another park on the site of the former Valencia orange show would make it possible to centralize the program still more.

LABOR AIDS FIGHT AGAINST SALES TAX

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 14. (AP)—Opponents of the sales tax had organized labor on their side today.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor instructed President William Green of the federation yesterday to urge affiliated state federations to work for repeal of the sales tax in any states which have it.

The Independent Walnut Growers Protective association met at Orange and appointed a committee of seven to employ attorneys to launch the court action, the officers said. This committee is composed of the officers themselves and John Wood and J. D. Pillaro of Walnut, J. W. Patterson of Escondido and Charles Havens of Garden Grove.

The walnut control board is composed of Neil Harrison, Bert Katz, A. W. Porter Jr., F. C. Riggs, H. C. Sharp, C. Trunk, Prof. F. R. Wilcox, Carlyle Thorpe and R. W. Miller.

POWERS BUYING WAR MATERIALS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—World-wide gains in the international movement of arms, munitions and the raw materials of war were disclosed today in a survey of the statistics of the United States and other nations.

In most cases these movements gained in 1934 over 1933, and also in the first half of 1935 as compared with the same period of 1934.

While the United States has been exporting less raw cotton the past two years, its exports of cotton linters are at a record high. Linters are very short cotton fibers. Though they are used for rayon, they are also well adapted for making explosives.

France, Germany, the United Kingdom, Japan, and Italy all increased imports of linters from the United States. Similarly this nation's exports of scrap iron and steel, useful for many war purposes, are at an all-time record high, Japan and Italy being major customers.

French imports of the benzols, useful for explosives, jumped from 9284 metric tons in 1933 to 25,494 in 1934, while Italian imports of similar materials were 4542 tons in 1934 compared with 3115 in 1933.

United States exports of metallic cartridges gained from 110,260,000 cartridges in 1933 to 151,117,000 in 1934. Rifle exports jumped from 18,145 guns to 36,852. Machine and heavy ordnance guns moved upward from 929 in 1933 to 1134 in 1934. A main group of explosives went from 506,080 pounds in 1933 to 1,290,663 in 1934.

COUNTY GROVES VALUE HIGH

Walnut orchards in Ventura, Santa Barbara and Orange counties have the highest values per acre of any walnut orchards in the state, according to figures compiled by the farm management division of the University of California college of agriculture.

Ventura county leads, with a per acre value of $1669. Santa Barbara county comes next with $1667, and Orange county third, with a value of $1594 per acre. Los Angeles county has the largest area devoted to walnuts, the bearing acreage being 26,154, while Ventura county is a close second. Santa Barbara county has 3249 bearing acres and Orange county has 7132 bearing acres.

The entire state has 139,005 acres of walnut orchards, with an investment of $135,065,154. All but 21,501 of these acres are in bearing.

G. O. P. STAND OUTLINED BY COL. KNOX

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., Aug. 14. (AP)—Colonel Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, was assured the support of New Hampshire republicans for the 1936 republican presidential nomination by Gov. H. Styles Bridges in an address before a state party gathering here today.

Drawing upon the 1932 democratic platform for six planks, Colonel Knox outlined a party platform which he declared represented "the utter repudiation by Roosevelt and his New Deal administration of sacred promises."

Presenting the planks in answer to President Roosevelt's "reiterated demand for a substitute program," the Chicago and Manchester, N. H., newspaper publisher recommended, for adoption by his party, a number of planks "taken, literally, from the democratic platform of 1932."

The Planks

Colonel Knox suggested that the following planks be included in the next republican platform:

"1. An immediate and drastic reduction of governmental expenditures.

"2. Maintenance of the national credit by a federal budget annually balanced.

"3. A sound currency to be preserved at all hazards.

"4. Unemployment and old age insurance under state laws.

"5. Strict and impartial enforcement of the anti-trust laws to prevent monopoly and unfair trade practices.

"6. Opposition to the unsound policy of restricting agricultural production."

Colonel Knox said he not only recommended these principles for adoption by his party, but he urged "the precise language in which I have read them."

Taken From Democrats

"This is important," he said, "because they are taken literally from the democratic platform of 1932."

"They represent principles upon which all those opposed to the radicalism of President Roosevelt can support the republican party and they represent, in every single instance, the utter repudiation by Roosevelt and his New Deal administration of sacred promises, upon the basis of which he procured his election."

CLIPPER SHIP POINTS FOR WAKE ISLE

MIDWAY ISLAND, Aug. 14.—(By Pan-American Airways) (AP) With another brand new record of precision flying behind them, the crew of the Pan-American Airways clipper today rested here in preparation for another flight over uncharted airways, this one to Wake Island, 1191 miles westward.

Tuesday evening, the clipper completed within eight minutes of schedule a flight of 1323 miles from Pearl Harbor, carrying a crew of seven, one passenger and 3000 pounds of freight.

The big plane landed here at 3 p. m., Honolulu time (5:30 Santa Ana time), exactly eight hours and 52 minutes after leaving its Bahu Island base. Before the flight, Captain R. O. D. Sullivan, commander, had estimated probable elapsed time of nine hours. Incidentally, the clipper broke its own previous record for the trip by 28 minutes.

Tune Up For Hop

Today, the ship's crew tuned up motors for the trip to Wake, over a route never followed by a plane. The tentative schedule calls for a take-off in three or four days.

Wake has been selected by the airways as an overnight stopping place for passenger and mail planes soon expected to be in regular service between California and Canton. Hotel accommodations have been prepared on Wake for crews and passengers of trans-Pacific planes.

Plans Short Trips

Captain Sullivan expects to make several short flights around the island to calibrate the radio direction finder for the air.

The clipper cargo included 245 pounds of nuts and bolts, one pound of sewing machine needles, yeast, packed in dry ice, windmill parts, cars, chemicals, floodlights, motion pictures and currency. Its variety caused Captain Sullivan to dub the plane "the first aerial freight train."

PENSIONS FOR 50,000 VETS RESTORED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The names of approximately 50,000 veterans and dependents of veterans of the Spanish-American war, the Boxer rebellion and the Philippine insurrection were restored today to the government's pension rolls.

This came about through approval by President Roosevelt late yesterday of the so-called Spanish-American war veterans' bill. Officials estimated the increased cost to the government would be $45,581,000 a year.

In a statement issued after he had signed the measure, the White House asserted Mr. Roosevelt's action established "no ground or precedent" for World war pensions.

He said that at the start of the World war congress had adopted a new system for giving benefits to American soldiers which were not accorded the men who fought in earlier struggles.

"This new system, applied to all who fought in the World war, extended to them additional compensation if they had dependents, as well as insurance, hospitalization, vocational rehabilitation and the adjusted compensation certificate (the bonus)," the statement said.

DISMISSAL OF SUIT SOUGHT IN $53,000 DAMAGES ACTION

Dismissal of the $53,000 damage action instituted by George Graupensperger, former deputy sheriff, against the Wilshire Oil company, Fred Humiston and Frank Lowell, is sought in a petition on file in superior court.

The petition states that the damage action has been settled out of court with Mr. Graupensperger receiving approximately $10,000. The suit was based on a traffic accident August 18, 1934, when a truck owned by the oil company and driven by Mr. Lowell, crashed into an automobile driven by Mr. Humiston, also a deputy sheriff. Mr. Graupensperger was a passenger in the Humiston car and lost the sight of both eyes as the result of injuries sustained.

Scraps From a Gardener's Scrapbook

Two hints for dahlia growers, apropos of the season are: disbud early in the morning while the plants are little, and, if your dahlias were early bloomers and are about finished, cut them away back a foot from the ground, water well and you'll have another crop of flowers in October and November.

Many times, someone asks what can be grown successfully under trees. In a current gardening magazine, there is an interesting article on iris, which mentions varieties which grow well with just a filtering of sunshine, Verna and Cristata. Both are small, low-growing irises that make a carpet under the flowering season and then cover the ground with grass-like foliage. In the summer, Cristata is anemistyle, blue, fringed and crusted with a bar of gold at the throat, and fragrant. Cristata Alba is white, and Verna a rich blue, "beardless" iris. Plant them in groups of 25 or more about six inches apart for the best effect.

Gracilipes is a tiny Japanese crested iris, pink-lilac, and likes much shade. Particularly mentioned for under trees is Graminea, reddish violet, fragrant and about 12 inches tall. Miniature bearded iris is recommended for the area between cement strips of a driveway. From four to six inches, they are not bruised by the car.

For ground-covering with the taller iris, plant now the seeds of pansies, violas and geraniums. A little later, plant nigella, a pretty blue flower surrounded with feathery green.

After telling you to plant Foxglove seed last week, I thought you might like to know how it gets its name. Foxglove is a corruption of "folke-glowen," the gleaming ring in older times, a musical instrument composed of a row of bells upon a frame, to which the flowers seemed to bear a resemblance.

Contract and auction bridge will be played. Prizes will be awarded, and refreshments served. Hostesses will be Mesdames Sue R. Henry, John Shaw, James H. Nicholson, W. W. Hyde, Walter Wright, J. O. Pyle and Mrs. McConnell.

MRS. KESEMANN TO ENTERTAIN CLUB

Past noble grands of Torosa Rebekah lodge will meet at the home of Mrs. Laura Kesemann at 1322 Durant street tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock for a covered-dish luncheon. Members are to bring their own table service.

'If In Doubt'

S. W. No, I would strongly advise that you don't inscribe your photograph with a tender message. How do you know you'll feel the same way a year from now? To write simply "Sincerely," or just your name is quite enough, and prevents possibility of any uncomfortable regrets in the future.

Women To Be Theme Of Review

Each entirely different, each faced with problems of her own, and each involved in some way in the love affairs of the pretty young Alis, the women of one family provide a fascinating plot for "The Distaff Side," play which Mona Summers Smith of the Santa Ana public library will review at tomorrow afternoon's benefit party of Mrs. Rex Kennedy's finance committee of Santa Ana Valley Ebell society in the home of Mrs. E. D. White on North Broadway.

Tables of contract and auction bridge will be played also during the afternoon. Prizes will be awarded.

The play, "The Distaff Side," attracted crowds to the Pasadena Community Playhouse last season, and has received much commendation from reviewers. Mrs. E. D. White today announced a list of the Girls' Ebell members who will assist in serving in the desert hour. They are Miss Betty Timmons, chairman, and Misses Barbara Tucker, Jean McKamy, Betty Lacy, Jean Dowds, Geraldine Gilbert, Betty Smedley, Martha and Roberta Tuthill, Betty Jane Moore, Florence Liggett, Nancy White, Barbara Dunton, Helena Bailey, Barbara and Lucille Lambert, Margaret Pimental, Barbara Speed, Janet Hollingsworth, Patty Rapp, Helen Marshall, Lewellyn Allen, Elaine Reynolds, Betty Hays and Caro Cogan.

SANTA ANA GROUP RETURNS FROM EASTERN TRIP

Mrs. Jay C. Hamill and her daughters, Misses Maurie and Marilyn Hamill, of 1901 North Main street, home this week after an eight-weeks motor trip through the east. They brought home with them for a visit Mrs. Hamill's sister-in-law, Mrs. Carolyn Hamill of Washington, D. C.

Going first to Chicago, Ill., their former home, the Santa Anas visited with friends, including W. H. Holly, federal judge in the United States court at Chicago. They then went to Flint, Mich. and on through the east, stopping among other places in Rochester, at Niagara Falls, in Boston, the quaint little old fishing village of Provincetown, on Cape Cod, in Washington, D. C., the Badlands and the Black Hills and home by way of Yellowstone, Bryce and Zion National parks. In Provincetown, the travelers visited Mr. and Mrs. Edson Reif, and another feature of the trip was their visit to West Point, and later they went to Annapolis, where they were entertained by a cousin of Mrs. Hamill, Lieut. Harold Hanley, who is taking postgraduate courses there.

FAMILY NIGHT OF BROTHERHOOD HELD

Family night for the Brotherhood of the First Church of the Brethren drew a crowd of more than 70 guests to the dinner which was served in the basement of the church last night.

Leland S. Brubaker of Covina, member of the Central Missions board of the church, gave a travelogue of his experiences on the world tour of mission of which he has just completed. Mrs. Brubaker and their children were also guests.

Chairman of the program was Ray Teter. Barry Hennard, president, officiated. Miss Ada Teter led singing previous to the talk, accompanied by Miss Alberta Hoover at the piano.

Fashions' Softening Influence Is 'Gathers' Says Marian Martin!

Mary Stoddard Advice Sought By Girl, 16, On Question of Marrying Man More Than Twice Her Age

BY MARY STODDARD
May and December marriages—do they turn out happily? That is one question that is beyond my power to answer. If I knew it I should most certainly enlighten a girl of 16 who puts the query to me.

It is said that many heads are better than one, so I'm printing her plea and asking my readers to give her their honest opinions.

Dear Miss Stoddard: I am a girl 16 years old and engaged to a man 42 years old. My mother is dead and I live with my father and aunt. My dad is 40 and my aunt 44, and she has never married.

My father and aunt object to our marriage because of my fiancé's age. Dad says he is older than himself and my aunt says he is just simply too old.

Now my fiancé earns $150 a month and has been with the firm 15 years and well able to take care of me. He is so kind and considerate and does everything I want him to.

Now don't you think I am not making a mistake in marrying him when you are each other so dearly? Thanks.

I have only one suggestion to make and it is this: If you have really found the one and only love, it will endure—it must endure because true love is like that. It surmounts all and every difficulty and clings unto death. I suggest that you wait two years until you are legally of age to marry.

Those will be short, happy years of fulfillment and preparation for a future that will insure a successful marriage. If it should so happen that you are mistaken about your love, either one or both of you, then you will avoid making the great mistake.

Sea waves at Huntington Beach drew guests of Mrs. Ray Dietrich when she entertained members of her sewing club at a covered-dish luncheon yesterday.

Children who had accompanied their mothers frolicked on the beach after their swim, while their "mamas" took to sewing.

Present were Mesdames George Ames, Jess Wright, Arthur Kettle, Ralph Davis, Harold Smith, John Coad of Santa Ana, Mrs. Liza Taiz of Midway City, and the hostess.

Potato production in the Kaw valley of Kansas will be near 1,000 carloads this year.

Never be daunted because your walls are dull and characterless; a very effective and inexpensive treatment is to paper.

In your living rooms you'll be wise to choose neutral colors—keeping designs small and colors light if the rooms are small, but in your bedrooms, nurseries, baths and bars—exercise your imagination.

You can cut out and paste on amusing pictures, finishing in a sophisticated manner with a prepared glaze—and glaze is effective on almost any wallpaper; it gives protection and a rich appearance—but it will change the colors, so do a sample first.

You may paint or stencil swags or borders around your ceilings or above your chair-rails, or secure unusual effects by using pictorial or oriental wallpapers in panels bordered with either paper borders or painted mouldings.

PATTERN 9248

Pursue your way to tailored Smartness, says Marian Martin, for crisp, clean-cut lines set off your femininity better than frills and furbelows ever hoped to, but do soften with gathers if you'd maintain your reputation for "chic!" Observe—not one whit of the fresh appeal of a young yoke and collar has been sacrificed but a lot of femininity has been added, through soft gathers in bodice and sleeve! You've two important decisions to make at this point, for that perky peplum and gathered sleeve are optional; and it's safe to decide on printed silk, shantung or linen! Complete, Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9248 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3½ yards 39-inch fabric. Send 15c in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin Pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

The Marian Martin Summer Pattern Book will lead your way to warm weather chic! From its forty pages view the parade of clothes for every occasion for every member of the family. Designs all beautifully illustrated, patterns all easy to make. Styles for the small girl, the dashing deb, the blushing bride and the mature matron plus some useful hints and some delightful reading. Send for your copy now! Price of book 15c. Book and pattern together, 25c. Send your order to Santa Ana Journal, Pattern Department, 117 West Fifth, Santa Ana.

12 Tables In Play At Club Garden Fete

Eleven tables of bridge and one of anagrams were played at tables placed under bright beach umbrellas in the J. A. King home garden on South Bristol street yesterday afternoon at the benefit party sponsored by Mrs. King and her philanthropy section of the Santa Ana Woman's club.

Before the play the guests were served a chilled salad with water and fruit punch. Miss Linda Crocker and Mesdames G. A. Short, R. W. Cole, A. C. Green, Nannie Myers, M. A. Ahearn and E. M. Waycott assisted in the hostess duties.

Prizes for the day went to Mesdames J. C. Clark, E. G. Warner, Alvin Nowotny, L. D. Hawkins and C. E. Erwin.

Others present were Mesdames E. A. Elwell, P. R. Arnold, R. G. Carman, A. E. Kester, E. W. Wright, S. E. Littrell, Charles Hoehn, J. J. Zieman, J. C. Waycott, Earl Ladd, William Kinslow, A. G. Green, E. C. Read, J. H. Tompkins.

Mesdames H. M. Hillyard, L. E. Tarbox, M. L. Hutchings, Mary Schiaman, C. C. Ream, T. C. Wilson, C. Arnold, G. N. Coon, H. D. McVillar, J. J. Vernon, Herbert Krahling, William L. Wells, J. D. Watkins, Harriet Lane, R. J. Caster, C. H. Stanley, George Ray, C. J. Fleming, Lester Pearson, F. E. Lindercantz and V. A. Wood and Miss Eliza Bronman.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

Do you think it's a good thing for boys to take home economics courses in school?

Mrs. C. Cratsberg: Yes, I do. It makes them more independent. It's a good thing for boys to know something about home economics. I have some nephews for whom it's proved worthwhile.

Mrs. T. L. Warren: I think it's a good thing for boys to know how to cook and sew. Lots of times, it becomes necessary for them to be able to do those things for themselves.

Mrs. P. E. Gatchell: It's very worthwhile for boys to know something about cooking and sewing. For one thing, when they go camping, they aren't so helpless if they've had home economics training.

VOL. 1, NO. 90 Wednesday, August 14, 1935

HUEY, A 1936 BOSS

HUEY LONG, Associated Press adviser to The Journal said yesterday, has announced he will be a candidate for President. We doubt if Huey means it, but whether he does or doesn't it is something for administration leaders to ponder over. At this moment it appears Long's announcement may do two things, either one of which would place the Roosevelt administration in jeopardy.

First, if he is bluffing and he makes the bluff stick, it will force the republicans to nominate a progressive and draft a progressive platform, one in keeping with world progress and cognizant of present-day conditions. Such a program, backed by the vulnerable situation of the Roosevelt administration and the swing of the pendulum, might spell disaster to the new deal, especially if the combination had Long's support which it might if the G. O. P. picked a man he liked.

Second, if Huey isn't bluffing and, failing in the democratic nomination, should attempt an independent crusade, his strength would be a real worry to the brain trust. As a ticket-splitter Long would be effective.

Party loyalty would mean nothing to Huey, of course. But his appeal would be the greater for that very reason. Long is a strong man, a real contender. Anyone who challenges that had better look him up. He is one of the nation's greatest political showmen and smart beyond words. Also he is unscrupulous and daring. There are few who would concede him a chance at the Presidency but there are hosts who realize he may be boss of the campaign.

FUMIGATE FOR PROMOTION PESTS

IT IS gratifying the note the encouragement that is being given the drive to shut out fake promotion schemes in Santa Ana. There is hardly a business man in the city who is not set upon constantly by promoters with either a worthless publicity campaign or a gold brick of some other sort.

Rich communities like this are always the victims of these parasites who settle down for a time to live off the hard work of others who have made the soil yield pay dirt. They rarely have any investment in the community, or anywhere else for that matter.

We hope the chamber of commerce and the Business Men's association will succeed in driving them out and keeping them out. We need that sort of thing even more than publicity. If the chamber's censorship is rigid enough and the business men who agree to follow the chamber's recommendation, will actually follow it, the promotion pests will disappear like citrus parasites under a fumigation tent. But, like the fruit parasites, they'll have to be kept out by constant fumigation.

HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT

IF YOU happened to miss a news story in your Journal yesterday about "the house that Jack built," find the paper now and turn to Page 6. It will give you new faith and new hope. It relates the story of a man and his family who wanted a house to live in. They owned a lot but instead of standing about and wishing a new house might spring up there in some Alladin-like fashion, Jack Makely decided he'd build a house himself.

He started to work Decoration day when a lot of us were vacationing. He has stayed on the job during odd hours while the "I-won't-workers" were holding conventions in Birch park and other places where loud-mouthed self-appointed orators were ribbing the government for more pay and less work. By Christmas time Jack and his family will—

But look up your Journal yesterday and read this story. And if you know of other instances like it, call The Journal; we get a thrill out of printing news like this.

WHY "BOO" THE WRESTLERS?

SANTA ANAN who attends all the wrestling matches has been asking us some questions.

Why, he wants to know, will a crowd go to the mat program, derive an immense "kick" out of the color and the action (he contends wrestling furnishes more action than any other sport), and then when the winner pins a pair of shoulders to the mat, hoot and bemoan because "it's all a fake"?

Admittedly, this Santa Ana friend of ours says, the wrestling match probably is faked—at least nine times out of ten. Yet, he adds, many of the very same fans will go to the theater, enjoy a fast-moving film, applaud it heartily and later recommend it to their acquaintances, in spite of the fact that it, too, "is a fake." Meaning by "fake" that the movie likewise shows scenes that aren't at all what they purport to be.

Well, this is too deep for us. Why do human beings behave as they do? Why the "booing" of wrestlers?

California's smiling and fruitful valleys are not the place for human wretchedness, bitterness and violence.

GLORIOUSLY IRREVERENT

THE furor in Japan over Vanity Fair's cartoon "insult" to the Emperor Hirochito gives a special timeliness to the observation of Mark Twain in the extracts from his diary in the August Cosmopolitan. It was in 1878, in the midst of his travels abroad, that Mark Twain jotted down:

"By the absence of an irreverent press Europe for a thousand years has existed merely for the advantage of half a dozen seventh-rate families called monarchs and some hundreds of ruffraff sarcastically called nobles. Our papers have one peculiarity—it is American; it exists nowhere else—their irreverence. May they never lose and never modify it!"

pets are no longer cooped in stuffy, latticed crates and panting from exhaustion. Instead they are tethered around a spread of rubber carpeted dais, backed by mirrors.

Within reach of all is a running flow of drinking water. Attendants are in spotless duck and the dogs are exercised every three hours. Also combed, powdered and given a teeth brushing daily. That scourge of the kennel, distemper, and the pesky flea are vanquished.

Many of the silkiest offerings are depression victims. Once rich owners making a final sacrifice. A Scottie today, gazing wistfully for a new master, was owned by a bankrupt stage star. A Russian wolf hound, descended from the Czar's private kennels, was also on the block. And so on.

Nothing is more touching than restrained masculine grief. In a traffic tie-up today, a huge limousine revealed a patrician Union League type. A sort of Warren Harding in his pontifical prime. One hand clutched a telegram in slight convulsive twitches. But he unbowed, with tears oozing slowly down. It was easy to see he was suffering stoically some terrible wrench. After thought: Maybe it was tax news from Washington.

America's whitest editor is Fulton Oursler. Aside from editing several magazines, he writes most of the editorials, reviews the books, turns out special articles and fiction under various pseudonyms and generally manages to edit one, sometimes two, full-length novels a year. He does his editing by teletype, living at Cape Cod and visiting his city office at intervals. His wife, Grace Perkins, is also a successful writer. She is a sister of the radio's Ray Perkins, another success.

Paris has a pathetic little upshot of journalism recently. A group of young correspondents suddenly beached by the suspension of the foreign edition of an American paper, launched a quixotic and peepily little tab. It was both weekly and weekly, surviving a few editions and was seen no more. There are now more than 200 stranded newspapermen from all parts of the world in Paris. They have a little club room the management of Du Dome has set apart for them on the third floor. Anyone who gets a writing assignment is pledged to give 20 per cent toward sustenance of unemployed brothers.

One of the older day office buildings in the 40's is known to grifters as "Hocus Pocus Tower." It's completely tenementized, mail order electric bell concerns, deep breathing schools, quick-sell carnival gadgets and a score or more of cunning caterers to those who seem actually to enjoy gentle humbuggery. Elevator jobs there are the softest in town. Scarcely anyone is carried up and down save the renters, as all business contacts are made by letter, telegraph or telephone.

In the brisk days of Wall Street's speculative markets the telephone salesman was the slickest, thimble-rigger of all in consummating a quick sale. My name sited to one of the small fry sucker lists when I lived at a 72d street hotel. W. C. Fields, boarding up the street, who coined "Seve, give a sucker an even break!" was also listed—of all people! Every few mornings the salesman managed to get me on the phone to flush a new rainbow of promise.

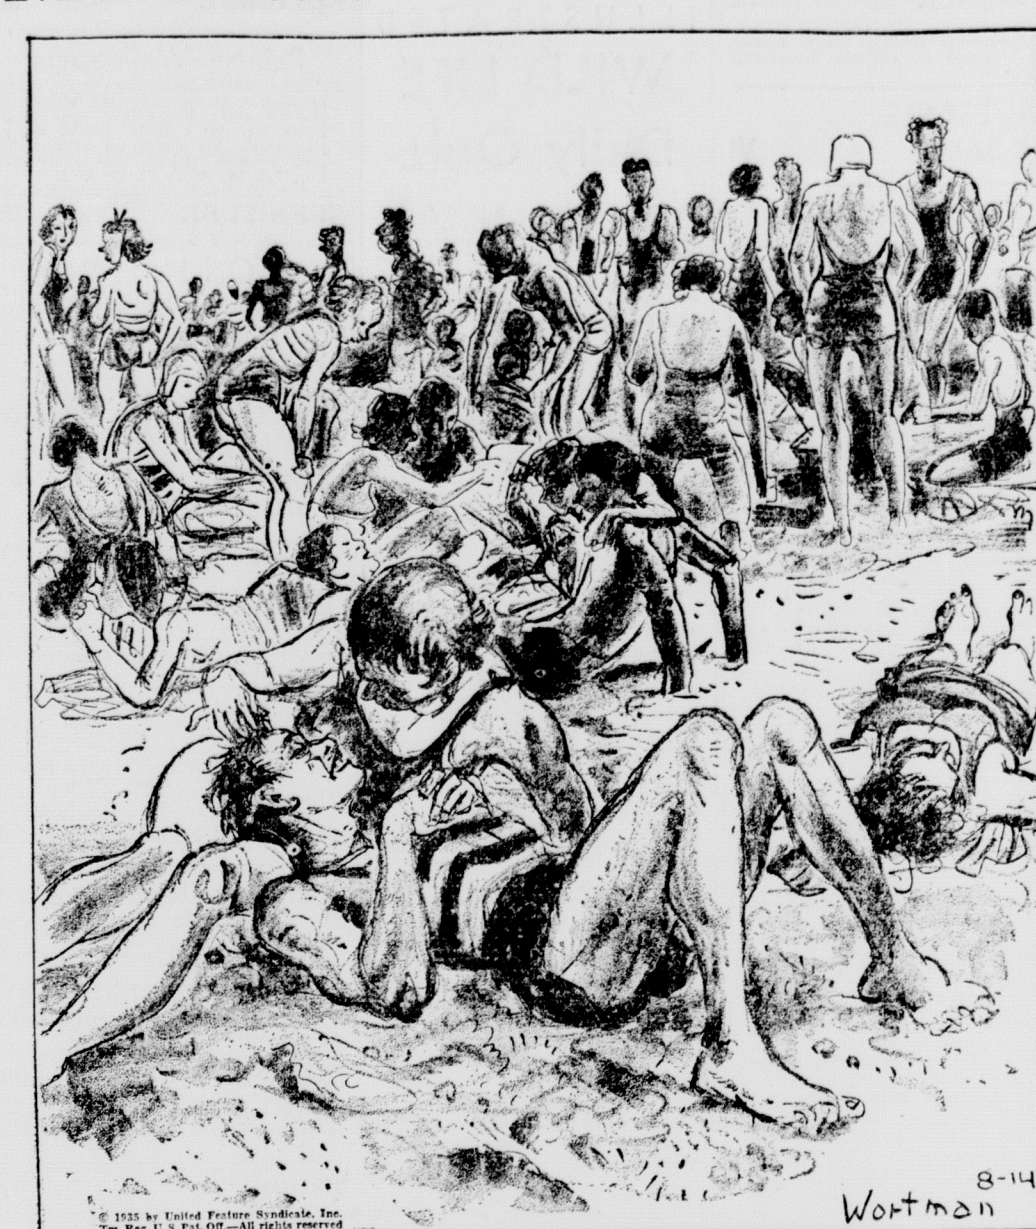

At first, feeling yoked conscious, I would hang up in the salesman's ear. Later on his sporting glibness became amusing and in the end I swallowed hook, line and sinker. I still don't know how he did it, but for $150, drawn from a staid savings bank, I got a 15-share allotment in a hoodum that was to revolutionize the bakery business. When the final disillusionment came, I joined Dr. Munyon for a hand in the air pose and breathers of vast Cuban sugar combines—don't we all simply have to have sugar? No, sir, they'd never catch me napping!

JOBS FOR GANGSTERS
TOKYO. (AP)—The metropolitan police board here has ordered that jobs be found for petty gangsters who fall into the coils of the law. Thus far five men have been placed, the most recent case being of a 41-year-old man who extorted $3,900 from cafes under the guise of a purification campaign.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Two conditions are behind the strikes of Works-Relief workers now fomenting or already started in New York, Boston, Chicago and St. Louis.

One is labor union desire to protect the union scale of wages. The other is resentment of certain building contractors against the government for cutting them out of Works-Relief gravy.

Works-Relief projects are being handled directly by the government on the basis that elimination of private contractors leaves a larger proportion of the money to be spent on wages. As a result, contractors who are missing out on good business have been working quietly with "business agents" of the unions.

The agents, in turn, found a fertile field in union ranks. Even though many men had been unemployed for months, they objected to Works-Relief pay. The issue, they argue, is not cash, but principle.

They make no protest against the $85 monthly maximum, readily admit that an assured income of this amount for one year is more than the average annual earning in their industry at high hourly rates.

They are willing to work for $85 a month, but it must be on the basis of union wages. In other words, they demand that they be paid on an hourly and not a monthly basis.

SERIOUS ISSUE

THIS latest snarl may wreak havoc with the Works-Relief program. Already the $1,000,000,000 plan is three months behind schedule. Already there have been countless delays because of warping in inner New Deal circles. A further protracted delay over the prevailing wage issue is certain to have grave political consequences.

So far, the administration has stood firm in its insistence on the security wage. But it has begun to make concessions. Under the prodding of General Johnson, New York's pungent Works-Relief administrator, the monthly maximum for building-trade workers was boosted 10 per cent to $93.50 and the work schedule cut from 130 to 120 hours.

GUARDLESS AND GULELESS

WHEN Mrs. Roosevelt was inspecting the TVA project some ago, she asked to be excused after dinner in order to do some letter writing, and further requested that the secret service be informed that she had left alone.

Another woman guest, returning to the guest house later, got into a conversation with the first lady regarding the problem of being constantly guarded. Mrs. Roosevelt informed her that she enjoyed traveling alone, but that the secret service insisted that either she be accompanied or travel armed.

"Would you like to see the beautiful gun the secret service gave me?" It is in the case there on the table.

"The case is locked," the visitor replied after an examination. "Really? I wonder what I did with the key. Oh, I remember now, I left it in Washington."

One Man's Opinion

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, amusing daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Pampered Solons—Why Should They Groan and Grunt?

The nation's capital city, in mid-summer, is pictured as one good place to stay away from, and if by fortuitous circumstance, one is unlucky enough to be there, he is urged to flee to more temperate climes. The daily press commiserates solicitously with the sweating solons assembled under the capitol's dome. Charitably, many of their mental aberrations are ascribed to the super-heated atmosphere. Nerves are frayed; tempers are short; action is brief; courage melts as collars wilt.

Such unbecoming sympathy is nonsense. More than half the population of the country live within a few hundred miles radius of the capital. Scores of teeming seaboard cities swelter equally in summer's heat. The nation's legislators, comfortably ensconced in air-conditioned chambers and luxuriously furnished offices, need more of prodding than of sympathy. Their ten-thousand-dollar salaries seem good to them at election time. Why should they groan and grunt when asked to stay on their jobs until something useful has been done? Instead of devoted servants toiling their weary lives away in the public weal many of these legislators are playing hooky as much as they dare. The constitu-

"Yes, if you can stand indigestion like father used to."

YE DIARY

Thys days to picnicking with friends on the beach, with great peace and content, albeit bitten by sand fleas, stung by a hornet, made mighty dyspeptic by eating too much blueberry pie, and knocked hither and thither by small boys playing pom-pom-pull-away, and Lord! why one doth picnic on a beach, when he can lie in a soft, comfortable hammock, on his own front porch. I know not, and indeed it do be a great mystery, and deep. Anon to home.

HIKERS' INNS SPREAD

BERLIN. (AP)—The 2,500 youth hostels in Germany provided a total of 6,000,000 nights' lodging for thousands of boys and girls on hiking tours in 1934. The movement has grown rapidly since its beginning in 1911, when there were 17 such inns, which cater exclusively, and very cheaply, to young people.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. (Scribbles) SKIRVIN

Of course this never happened to you more than a few hundred times. Start to negotiate an intersection. You encounter a motorist who gives you the "P" sign. Then your chivalry bubbles over and you express your preference with a friendly wave of your hand for the motorist to proceed. After a few waves back and forth you get seasick, and step into the middle of the traffic stream the same as to how worse to accept your invitation to go ahead. By this time the situation has become embarrassing for both of you, especially when the audience begins to snicker.

Missed Fred Timm at the voting booth last Tuesday. Almost afraid to mark the ballot for fear it wouldn't be legal. Guess a little matter of thirteen million dollars wasn't enough to interest him.

How the state spends its money is a little concern if we accept the voters interest in Tuesday's bond election issues. When the authority for this item registered his vote at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning two other voters had beat him to it. What a concern we have as to how worse to spend thirteen million dollars. But what a noise we can make later when the tax bill comes in.

Roy Langley returns to Santa Ana from Idylwild to renew his acquaintance with the Santa Ana Country club. Election day probably gave him the idea that there would at least be as much interest in a golf game as a bond issue, so he bids temporary adieu to the Idylwild vacation for the purpose of making a few foursomes. Ben McMillen is to report the result of the game, but for fear he does not it's a safe venture to bet that Roy was on the winning side. I don't know whether that fellow is just lucky or knows how.

Wonder how hot it's going to be in Santa Ana tomorrow? We know what the temperature will be in Los Angeles.

Hereafter Pete Biessell will take his vacation in the long Kyras Pete Biessell, who has been vacationing at the Hawaiian Islands. The boat did not behave itself. Neither did Pete's stomach. This time he started for Vancouver. He got as far as San Francisco. The land treated him no better. Then the boat sailed. Pete's stomach turned over and lands on its face. So the northern destination fell several hundred miles short of the terminal. Being a good friend of Pete's may I suggest a copy of Westways. It's a swell magazine without any stomach disturbances.

Pat Doane insists on introducing a resolution for the Santa Fe with headquarters at Fresno. Hargis and Doane were railroad associates for many years in that part of the state where the sunkist raisins put on the clinging vine act, and helped the car-loading crew to arrange a safe trip to the fair. I have no doubt other companionships might be revealed which would furnish interesting reading. The fact that it was impossible to get Doane to tell me anything about Hargis' habits was enough to arouse my suspicion. They were enjoying their lunch-when this introduction took place, and making a casual observation that it was about time for the waitress to add up the total, felt that there was a safety in absence—so I absented.
